HARVARD IS HOT FAVORITE IN ALL RACES

the spectators, as well as that of the crews as the former limit of the first ten strokes was considered too rigid, and adherence to it might prevent the rowing of any race at all, should a slight accident occur to one of the boats after passing the tenth

The new rule was suggested by the referee, William H. Melickheim of New York. The Yale varsity eight had three miles of light rowing, going up stream at a stroke and coming back at a lively clip for the mile and a half. Two racing starts were taken, but the work was in general for conditioning.

Yale Very Confident.

The Yale supporters are still absolutely confident of winning the university record, although the Harvard men who have seen Yale row do not admit that Yale will be ahead at the finish, they are quite willing to pay tribute to the excellence of the Yale eight and to the ability of the coach who has prepared it.

competent judges is that the Yale crew is one of the best, if not the very best, that has come from New Haven in ten years at least.

It is generally believed that Yale will lead at the start. Then will come a terrific struggle which will last until one of the crews succumbs and goes to pieces.

This is hoped and expected that there will be no complete collapse like the one that Yale suffered last year, but somewhere in the race the time will come when one of the crews will be unable to keep up longer the pace at which it has been going, and then the other eight will go ahead and win.

This is the plan on which the English university races have always been won. It used to be the habit of coaching in the country to tell their men to pay no attention to the other crew, but to row its way average best over the four miles, trusting that this pace would be fast enough to leave the other boat behind.

The high worlded with a good deal of the Harvard-Yale races when the New England crews were so much better than the others without difficulty, but more recently, when the Harvard crews have been much better than they used to be, there has been some real racing on the Thames.

The visit was a brief one. The visiting party came from Portland, Me., and directly upon arriving here proceeded to Fort Banks and from there to Hull. Save for the friction of the regulation salutes, there was nothing formal in the ceremony at the forts. The men were at the guns, but there was a "casual" feeling about the affair.

Delaney, once a prosperous business man, was sentenced to serve from six to ten years in State prison for assault with intent to kill. Both Daniel Delaney and Farley were sentenced to serve from six to ten years in State prison for assault with intent to kill.

ED fired three shots into the woman's head and it was regarded as remarkable that she did not lose her life. Delaney pleaded guilty to the charge against him and took the sentence calmly. He has relatives in Waterbury, Conn., but requested they send him no assistance, as he did not care to save the outside world from knowing that he had brought disgrace on his family. Delaney laid all his troubles to intemperance.

BIG PRIZES IN AUTO MEET AT LOWELL

By J. C. KERRISON.

The greatest motor carnival that has been held in the East will be witnessed in Lowell during the first week of next September. All the preliminary arrangements for the same have been virtually completed and there is reason to believe that something like forty machines will engage in the events.

The carnival is to extend over two or three days, with the first day the most important. It will consist of a contest between drivers and machines in this country, a piece-de-resistance of the meeting being the national championship, which will probably be something like 200 miles in distance, and to the winning driver of this will be given the title of champion.

[illegible]

The entry blanks for the events will be issued within a few days. Fred J. Wagner, who has started all of the big motor events in this country, has been induced to assist the local managers in the handling of the contest, the first of its kind in the city in such work. He yesterday said that he was confident that there would be something like forty cars in the contest. He has already been assured of several cars for the big race, including two Flats, two Buicks, a Matheson and a Chrysler. The motorcycle races, there will, be no need of

The Bay State Automobile Association this evening once more threw over the question of consolidation with the State Motor Club. It is to be hoped that the proposed amalgamation will be satisfactory to the members of the Bay State, as such a consolidation means considerable to be local motoring interests.

GIRL MINSTREL SHOW FREE AT WONDERLAND

Having perfected the Wonderland productions to a degree surpassing all previous park history, the Wonderland management is now turning its attention to a free open-air spectacle such as will meet public approval like no other shows, be very different from all others.

The latest production at Wonderland is the "1915 Girl Minstrel Show," and it can surprises anything in the minstrel line presented in the East. Every one of the songs is a masterpiece of melody, singing, dancing and general entertaining. The four black-face girls are wonders. The pony team of Spanish dancers have never excelled hereabouts and can win their way into the hearts of any audience.

SUNDAY AMERICAN free tickets will help you to see the minstrels next Monday and Tuesday, as well as the other productions, including the Vaudeville, Brenck's Golden Graces and Prophet and Princess. MARKETS: FINANCIAL NEWS

BY T. C. SHOTWELL.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Stocks were lively and somewhat lower during the first half of the session. The Street was generally optimistic, but the Shut-Out shares were the chief sufferers. The common opened at 88 1/2, but under realization of the triple bottom, shortly after opening it dropped to 85 1/2, and then to 84 1/2. It closed three-fourths of a point under the closing figure of yesterday, its week-end low.

At the end of the first half hour of trading these shares had recovered to 86 1/2, but then they again fell to 85 1/2. Marjama men exhibited strength, with the common opening at 100 1/2, and closing at 100. Southern Pacific, an advance of 1/2, closed at 101 1/2.

The latter at C. S. C. S. Something was being discussed. The other two were divided. One said the American Express Co. will take over the Western Union Telegraph Co. and the other said it is local financial circles.

In London, however, yesterday's advance in the stock market was smaller in size. Adventure weakened to 7½ as the price of gold fell from $100 to $98. The pound opened at 80 but ran off fractionally. There is a report that an important meeting of the cabinet members is to be held this afternoon.

There were few features and news items there was almost at a standstill. The club members were not present.
